Alaska's Ballot Counting System

Your Vote is Secure!

Alaska uses three different methods to count ballots:

- ❖ Hand-count
- ❖ Optical Scan
- ❖ Touch Screen equipment with voter-verifiable paper audit trail

Alaska's ballot tabulation system has a paper trail of every ballot cast. Each precinct receives paper ballots that are either hand-counted when the polls close or counted using an optical scan unit as the voter inserts the ballot into the optical scan. In addition, during federal elections, each precinct has a touch screen voting unit equipped with a voter-verifiable paper trail that allows the voter to verify the printed version of the ballot prior to casting the ballot.

The ballot tabulation system used in Alaska to produce and count ballots is federally certified and is thoroughly tested prior to each election. It is a stand-alone system that is not connected to the internet or to a network.

Each optical scan and touch screen voting unit, along with their corresponding memory cards are tested prior to the election. A functionality test is conducted to ensure the equipment is in proper working order. Two different logic and accuracy tests are performed, by two different bi-partisan boards, on memory cards to ensure the cards are counting the ballots correctly.

In addition to the pre-election testing, the division is required by law to conduct a verification of machine counts by hand-counting ballots from a random sampling of precincts. In fact, through this verification, 5% of the ballots cast in each of the 40 house districts throughout Alaska are hand-counted after the election to verify the election results are accurate. If we find a discrepancy of more than 1% in the hand-count verification, we are required to hand-count all of the ballots cast in the district.

With all the testing, security and verification processes used by the Division of Elections during each election, you can go to the polls knowing that your vote is secure and that it will be accurately counted and reported.

Bring Identification to the Polls

You MUST be prepared to show one form of identification. You may use the following ID:

- Voter ID Card
- Driver's License
- State ID Card
- Current and valid photo ID Card
- Passport
- Military ID Card
- Birth Certificate

Questioned Ballots

If your name does not appear on the precinct register or if you do not have identification, you may vote a questioned ballot. Your voted ballot will be placed in a secrecy sleeve and then sealed inside a completed questioned ballot envelope. The information you provide on the outside of the questioned ballot envelope will be used to determine your voting eligibility and to update your voter registration. If for any reason your questioned ballot is not fully counted, you will be notified in writing.

Marking the Ballot

When voting, fill in the oval next to the choice you wish to vote for.

Mark only one choice in each section. If you mark more than one choice, that section of the ballot will NOT be counted. You do not have to vote each section.

If you make a mistake marking your ballot, DO NOT erase or correct the ballot. Return your ballot to an election worker and request a new ballot. Sections with eraser marks or where more than one choice is selected will not be counted.

Campaigning Prohibited

Campaigning is not allowed within 200 feet of any entrance to a polling place during the hours the polls are open. This includes any discussions about candidates or issues appearing on the ballot or displaying campaign items such as signs, bumper stickers or buttons.

Voter Assistance and Concerns

Assistance While Voting

If you need language or other assistance during the voting process, you may have a person of your choice help you as long as that person is not a candidate for office in the election, is not your employer, agent of your employer or agent of a union you belong to. You can have help during each step of the voting process, including inside the voting booth with reading or marking the ballot. The election workers at the polling place are available to help you as well. This is your right under federal law.

Alaska Native Language Assistance

Bilingual outreach workers and poll workers have been hired by the Division of Elections to provide language assistance in rural areas where there are limited English proficient Alaska Native voters. Before Election Day, bilingual workers make announcements, provide election information to their community and are available to provide language assistance for any voting related activity, including voter registration, absentee voting and to assist with all information in this pamphlet. On Election Day, bilingual workers will provide language assistance at the polling place with the voting process, including translating the ballot.

If you need the name of the person who has been hired to provide language assistance in your community, please contact the Division of Elections. For Alaska Native language assistance call, toll free 1-866-954-8683.

Touch Screen Voting Machine

On Election Day, each polling place will have a touch screen voting machine. The touch screen voting machine is intended for the blind, disabled, and for voters who do not read well. It allows voters to vote unassisted through the use of magnified, high contrast and audio ballots. In rural areas where there are limited English proficient Alaska Native voters, the touch screen voting machine will also have an audio translation of the ballot in Alaska Native languages. Voting an audio ballot may take 15 – 20 minutes. If you need to vote using the touch screen voting machine, let the election board know.

Visually Impaired Voters

Magnifying ballot viewers are available at all polling places and absentee voting sites. Audio recording of this pamphlet is available at each Regional Election Office, from the Alaska State Library, Talking Book Center, located in Juneau and on the Division of Elections website. Telephone the library at (907) 465-1315 for information.

Hearing Impaired Voters

For questions or to obtain election information, you may contact the Division of Elections through our TTY telecommunications device by calling (907) 465-3020.

Physically Disabled Voters

If you have difficulty gaining access to your polling place, or if you have questions about the accessibility of your polling place, please contact the Division of Elections. We make every effort to ensure that polling places are accessible to all Alaskans.

Alyse S. Galvin, Alaska Democratic Party Nominee (Undeclared)

Anchorage, AK 99508

MAILING ADDRESS: PO Box 90020
Anchorage, AK 99509

EMAIL: alyse@alyse4alaska.com

WEBSITE: www.alyse4alaska.com

AGE: 53

SPOUSE'S NAME: Patrick Galvin

CHILDREN'S NAMES: Cooper, Sean, Bridget,
Camden

EDUCATION:
BA, University of California San Diego

OTHER:
Alyse Galvin is a mom, a lifelong Alaskan, a community leader, and has been a fighter for people across Alaska throughout her career. She is a former small business owner and managed a large hotel. Alyse spent the last four years as a leader of Great Alaska Schools. In Congress, Alyse will put partisan politics aside and be an independent voice fighting for all Alaskans. Alyse will work for bipartisan solutions to our toughest problems and fight for Alaska's interests.

Alyse and her husband Pat are the proud parents of four amazing kids raised and educated in Alaska. Like any parent, she wants to make sure that Alaska is a place with the jobs, educational opportunities, and vibrant communities that will allow her children -- and every child -- to live, work and raise families right here in Alaska.

STATEMENT:

Alyse knows firsthand that Alaskans are struggling to find jobs with wages that keep up with rising costs. Alyse will work to revitalize the Alaskan economy and create the jobs of the future, championing legislation helping small businesses thrive, encouraging innovation and technology, establishing statewide high-speed broadband, investing in roads and ports for international trade, and reducing energy costs.

Everyone deserves healthcare. Our healthcare system is failing patients, led us into a recession and stands in the way of economic growth. Alyse will work to ensure every Alaskan has the healthcare they need, fighting to lower prescription costs, promoting stability and lower costs for coverage. Alyse will protect women's access to reproductive health care.

The strength of our economy begins with a strong education. Alyse has extensive experience improving educational opportunities to support children's school success from cradle to career. Alyse will fight for policies that bring our young people the skills to thrive in the future.

Alyse believes Congress must protect Social Security and Medicare, benefits seniors have paid for, earned and been promised after a lifetime of hard work. Alyse will be a champion for seniors and reach across party lines to allow Medicare to negotiate lower prices for prescriptions.

Alaska is facing a violent crime epidemic and substance abuse crisis that's left no family or community untouched. Alyse will address this emergency head-on, adding more law enforcement, treating opioid addiction as a public health crisis, improving access to drug treatment, and ensuring that every Alaskan feels safe.

STATEMENT:

Throughout my service to Alaska, I've worked to protect the unique beauty, abundant resources, and resilient people of our state. Whether it's defending our economy from job killing rules and regulations, empowering families and small businesses with new opportunities, or upholding the constitution, I've always stood up and fought for Alaska.

Our state has experienced many successes and the work to protect Alaska's future is far from over. We are faced with a barrage of one size fits all, "Washington knows best" policies that jeopardize our already sluggish economy, lock away our land and resources, and ignore the needs of our people. The 2016 election sent a clear message to D.C. bureaucrats. Enough is enough. I have worked to roll back burdensome regulations, deliver tax relief and unleash Alaska's leadership potential in energy production and I still have more I want to do.

With the confidence you've entrusted in me, and the relationships I've built in Congress, I'm strategically positioned to defend Alaska's interests. As a senior member of two powerful committees and as Chairman Emeritus of the Natural Resources Committee, I continue to advocate for our great state. With these key roles and a deep passion for our people, I'm confident that Alaska will shape many policy debates needed to build a stronger, more vibrant state for generations to come.

My motivation and enthusiasm for the Alaskan people remains as strong as ever. With your support, I remain committed to defending and fighting for Alaska's future.

In 2008, Mark was elected to the United States Senate where he broke down bureaucratic barriers and built an impressive record of accomplishments on issues such as fisheries, travel & tourism, transportation, resource development, tribal and Alaska Native interests, the Arctic, education, veterans, commerce, housing and more.

STATEMENT:

When more than half of Alaskans believe we are headed in the wrong direction, it is time for change.

That is why, as Governor, I would:

1. Constitutionally Protect a Sustainable PFD: Using a Percentage of Market Value (POMV) formula, I would constitutionally protect the PFD estimated currently between $1600-$1800 a year – to grow from there. I would dedicate remaining funds for pre-K-12 education freeing up general funds previously used for education – this year that amount estimated at $1.6 billion.
2. Create Long-Term Fiscal Stability: In addition, my PFD plan to protect the PFD and secure long-term education funding, I believe we must (a) reform delivery of government services (b) move away from paying cash for capital budgets and instead using general obligation bonds (c) only after implementing the above, we may have to review, revamp, or add new revenues if we still have a deficit.
3. Keep Alaska Families Safe by Reducing Crime in Urban and Rural Alaska: There are multiple things we can do to get smarter and tougher on crime, but to begin we must address drug epidemic and substance abuse issues, increase coordination between state and local government efforts, and reform the village public safety officers and village police programs.
4. Harness Alaska's True Potential Through Economic Development & Job Creation: We must diversify our economic portfolio, create a stable regulatory environment, train our workforce so we can fill Alaska jobs with Alaskans first, and identify new opportunities and industries for growth.

STATEMENT:

I am running for governor because Alaska needs bold new leadership, now more than ever.

Reduce spending: Alaska has the nation's highest per capita government spending—double or triple the amount in many other states. This is unsustainable. As Governor, I will introduce significantly lower budgets, and use my veto pen to reduce the footprint of government.

Declare war on criminals: The explosive growth in violent and property crime demands an aggressive response. SB 91 has made crime worse, and I support a full repeal of this troubled policy. We must end the "catch and release" of criminals, and instead deliver swift and severe consequences for criminal behavior.

Protect the PFD: Alaskans' PFDs should be paid in full using the formula that has worked for decades, and the PFD should be protected in the constitution. No candidate for governor has filed more bills and amendments to protect the PFD. For example, I sponsored SB 1 to restore the PFD cuts made by Governor Walker in 2016.

Restore public trust: Too many politicians have squandered the trust of the people with broken promises on the PFD, taxes, the budget, and other issues. I am committed to earning that trust back, the only way I know how: by keeping promises and commitments. By saying what I mean and meaning what I say.

With the right leadership, Alaska can once again be a land of opportunity for anyone willing to work hard. I'd be honored to have your vote.

STATEMENT:

I am running for re-election because now more than ever Alaska needs independent leaders who prioritize long-term decisions over special interests and the politically correct.

Long-Term Fiscal Solutions: Byron and I entered office during the worst deficit in Alaska's history. We built a way out of that fiscal freefall. Our administration cut the deficit by 3 billion dollars and reduced the budget to 2007 levels. We restored Alaska's credit rating and replaced shortsighted spending with a long-term plan, stabilizing our economy and protecting future Dividends. Compromise, independent thinking, and some tough decisions put the state back on track.

Healthcare: In 2014, the state was entering an opioid epidemic and had no adequate system to address the unique obstacles of healthcare in Alaska. Today, Alaska is a model for states' response to the opioid crisis, and Medicaid expansion has insured thousands of Alaskans while reducing costs to the state. Byron and I stood with Senator Murkowski and rejected the disastrous healthcare proposals out of Washington. There is still work to do, but this administration has a proven record of increasing access to care.

Independent Leadership: Alaskans and Americans are all too familiar with the crisis of partisan gridlock. Yet many have resigned themselves to political paralysis. Byron and I cannot accept that. As the only Independent governing team in America, we worked with both White House Administrations to realize Alaska's resource wealth. We negotiated with both parties to achieve fiscal compromise. We put Alaskans' interests over the interests of any party.

STATEMENT:

A Voice for All Alaskans

Public Safety First: Our villages, neighborhoods and schools must be safe places to live and work. When crime due to addiction and the opioid crisis creates daily fear, it's time to recognize that the status quo isn't working.

Solve the Fiscal Crisis, Protect the PFD: Slashing the budget, raiding our savings, and cutting the PFD is not a solution. All Alaskans need to come together to support a balanced and fair fiscal plan to guarantee the PFD for our children.

Investment in Education: Our children are the most precious resource we have, with unlimited potential. But they will never reach that potential without excellence in K-12, vocational training, and affordable college.

Quality Careers: Alaskans deserve quality careers with good benefits so they can raise their families with peace of mind. Given Alaska's tremendous natural wealth, every Alaskan should be able to work in a healthy, stable, and prosperous environment.

Protecting Our Rights: As a woman who has worked hard throughout my life, I am a strong advocate for women's rights, equal pay for equal work, and the rights of all peoples regardless of their age, sex, race, religion, or gender.

Leadership and Vision: Alaska is at a crossroads: do we settle for the short term band-aid approaches that got us into the mess we're now in, or do we embrace a bold vision to create a diversified, sustainable future for Alaskans? I have the education, experience, and passion to work for you and Alaska's future.

STATEMENT:

As Lieutenant Governor, Care plans on being a full partner on the Libertarian Governor team. All bills that are intolerant of rights, increase taxes, or force compliance to unjust laws, should be vetoed. As a Libertarian, she is fiscally responsible and socially tolerant in both her private and public life.

Care would encourage legislation that would end the two-primary system and encourage third-party and independent candidates. Legislation should end the "3% rule" that keeps minority parties from qualifying for ballot access, and make illegal the two-caucus favoritism exhibited in our legislature. All worthwhile and constitutional initiatives would be approved.

In 2014, Care ran for Governor against JR Myers, Sean Parnell, and Bill Walker. Alaskans need to elect the Libertarian team to do the Governor's job! Vote for the team that will balance the State's finances by making the decisions that were promised in 2014. Our team will never grow government on the backs of the Alaskan people. Vote for a State of Alaska that puts individual prosperity ahead of keeping the government growing.

Take the Government OUT of:

- Marriage, Family, and Religious Decisions
- Medical decisions
- Business, private schools, and free trade
- Victimless offenses (i.e., marijuana, e-cigarettes)
- Gun ownership
- Political favoritism (End the two-caucus legislature and state-funded primaries)
- YOUR POCKET (no new taxes, reduce existing taxes, reinstate the full PFD)

STATEMENT:

I am a lifelong Alaskan, passionate about this place and its people. I know polarizing partisanship is not a path to solutions. Progress takes leadership, collaboration and hard work. I have devoted my life to bringing people together to tackle complicated issues.

The Economy

Coming into office, our administration faced a fiscal disaster. In four years we cut the deficit by 3 billion dollars, re-established Alaska's credit rating, and replaced shortsighted spending habits with a long-term plan that ensures Alaskans' Permanent Fund Dividends and fiscal stability.

Education

Education grows everything else. Our administration repeatedly held the line against cuts to school budgets. We have worked towards universal, voluntary pre-K services, increasing vocational training programs, and reducing student loan interest rates. Education is the best investment we can make.

Native Sovereignty

Bill and I have fought to ensure Native sovereignty and subsistence rights at every turn. We rallied against devastating cuts to rural education; increased funding for prosecutors, investigators and 911 services in rural Alaska; and worked with Native leaders to lower rates of suicide, alcoholism and opioid abuse. No one else in this race will stand for Native Alaskans like this Administration.

Further Priorities

Making state government open, transparent and accessible to the people. Working with all Alaskans to address, adapt and mitigate climate change and its impact on our way of life. Protecting our transboundary rivers. Providing a modern and secure election system. Growing our economy and state transportation system by strengthening our Alaska Marine Highway.

STATEMENT:

From my humble roots growing up on a rural farm, I have worked hard to gain the trust of Alaskans. Working since high school, I have strived to show the tenacity and dedication necessary to gain the private sector experience critical to bringing the strongest Republican team possible to Juneau in November.

As an 18-year state legislator, I have worked hard on the important issues facing our state: increased focus on public safety, early and forward funding of education, promoted and supported resource development opportunities, and held firm against a statewide income tax.

None of my accomplishments as a legislator would have been possible without the people that I represent. It has been an honor and a privilege serving you. I look forward to working together to ensure that Alaska is a great place to live, work, and raise a family.

I would appreciate your vote on Election Day and thank you for your support!

STATEMENT:

I respectfully request your support. We have weathered the storm and are climbing out of the recession without taxes or any other permanent, negative impact to Alaskans.

I have delivered more cuts in committee than any other legislator in history as I focus on reducing the operating budget, waste and overreach into your lives and your place of employment.

The buck stopped with the Senate Majority where I served as the Majority Leader. We stopped 13 attempts to tax working Alaskans to fund a government that remains too large and passed a spending limit to control future growth.

We are also focused on the opioid-related increase in crime that we are experiencing similar to many across the country. Conservatives like me in the Legislature supported SB91 because it toughened sentencing for violent criminals, supported victim's rights and provided monitoring for suspects on pretrial. However, portions have been and must continue to be repealed until criminals are held accountable and Alaskans feel safe in their homes and communities.

The Senate also ensured that the historic PFD calculation remained in statute and passed legislation that only serves as a spending limit for the earnings reserve. PFDs will be paid first, using the original calculation Alaskans expect.

There is a bright future in store for Alaska. I have the vision, experience and background to help get us there. Experience matters most in times like these. I would sincerely appreciate your vote.

STATEMENT:

It is time to put aside partisan obstructionism. We can no longer tolerate having the most expensive health care, one of the lowest rankings in education, and the highest crime rates in the country without offering effective solutions.

- Without a long term diversified fiscal plan, Alaskans will continue to see cuts to public education, public safety, and health care. We can't rely on the oil and gas industry to sustain us through the ups and downs of gas prices. We must focus on actions that increase revenue while protecting our Permanent Fund Dividend.
- We must use our money wisely. We can improve the quality of our education, reduce crime, and lower health care costs by addressing the core problems. It is not enough to throw money at problems, we need to see results, and ensure that our money is being spent on fixing the problems that contribute to our poor ratings.
- We must ensure that our students are competitive for jobs in Alaska and the global market.
- And, we must manage our natural resources for the long-term sustainment of Alaskans who rely on the income from these resources while encouraging new industry development.

I am running as an Independent Candidate so that I can serve my district, unencumbered by partisan politics, as I once served my country. I have the background, education, and commitment to service that it takes to move our state forward. I will work for you.

House District 29 Representative

Benjamin E. "Ben" Carpenter, Alaska Republican Party Nominee (Republican)

OTHER:

Ben is a transplant from the lower-48 and has called Alaska home for more than 30 years. Born in orchard county in eastern Washington State he moved to Alaska with his family in 1985. He grew up in Nikiski where he graduated from high school in 1993. Ben will retire from the Alaska Army National Guard this year with more than 21 years of military service, including six deployments to the Middle East with the USAF and USA. Upon departing the active duty military in 2013, Ben joined his family in establishing a commercial peony farm and is a founding member and current President of the Alaska Peony Market Cooperative, a local farm co-op specializing in marketing beautiful Alaska peonies. Ben is currently employed by Epperheimer, Inc. as a Project Manager. Ben has been blissfully married to the former Ameye Mazurek for 22 years and they have four wonderful children.

STATEMENT:

Experienced politicians are to thank for the financial mess we are in at every level of government. I've volunteered to serve in the State Legislature because I believed it to be the right thing to do. We have a desperate need for ordinary citizens who possess common sense, a functioning moral compass, and an ability to solve problems to stand up and lead for a time, and then sit down. From what I have seen of other districts' candidates, this is a season for change. This election has great potential to send some highly motivated, energetic and principled conservative leaders to Juneau. I'd like the opportunity to be part of the team and I ask for your support.

My priorities:

- SB91 was counterproductive; it shall be repealed.
- We need to change the way judges treat repeat offenders. Personal responsibility matters. No more revolving door: 3 strikes and you're out!
- State spending for Education and Health and Social Services require innovative actions to reduce cost to the taxpayer. We MUST deal with these issues instead of kicking the can down the road.
- Balance the budget and keep taxes low. We still have a spending problem. With increased oil prices we must keep up the pressure to reduce the size and scope of our government.
- With a leaner government we shouldn't need additional revenue but I favor a flat tax and partial year sales tax over other forms of revenue. No income tax... ever.
- Return the entire PFD to the people.

STATEMENT:

It has been a privilege to represent the residents of District 30 in Juneau these last two years.

Many of the things I set out to accomplish still need to be completed.

One must have concurrence from members of the House and Senate as well as the Governor's office to pass legislation and that is why things move rather slowly in Juneau.

I work well with all members of the House and Senate to pass good legislation and stop bad legislation.

I will continue to work towards a sustainable budget, less bureaucracy and more efficiencies in government.

There are numerous challenges facing the State such as

- crime reform
- budgets
- health and social services issues
- fisheries
- our economy
- our local issues right here on the Kenai
Peninsula that need to be resolved.

We have started work on these issues and I strive to find compromise to bring forward resolutions to them.

I ask for your support to accomplish these tasks.
Thank You.

STATEMENT:

Paul Seaton has been actively involved in Kenai Peninsula communities for 43 years. "As your Representative, I work hard for an Alaska that values fiscal responsibility, quality education, improved health care, road maintenance, responsible resource development, and accountable government."

Paul values good ideas and practical solutions over partisanship. "I joined the bipartisan coalition to work to balance the budget and protect the PFD for future generations. My party affiliation is now Non-partisan. I work with all legislators to solve Alaska's toughest problems. My principles remain unchanged."

Paul strongly supports all levels of education. "I sponsored and secured separate budgeting for K-12 education which avoided pink slips and teacher layoffs. I have been a leader in bringing technology and vocational education back to the classroom."

Paul continues to work to secure access to quality healthcare.
"My efforts to reduce the widespread vitamin D deficiency in Alaskans are making progress toward better health. This could save us millions of dollars per year by avoiding pre-term births, lowering cancer rates and improving mental health."

Paul has worked to improve public safety. "I worked hard to reform SB 91 and add new trooper and VPSO positions while increasing prosecutors so that cases could go to trial."

Paul works hard to ensure resource development is responsive to our communities. "I believe we should receive maximum value for Alaska's non-renewable resources."

Please vote to return Paul Seaton to the State House to continue listening to and working for Peninsula residents.

OTHER:

I want to bring back the character of “small town” Alaska that we know and love; a place that is safe, vibrant and bursting with opportunity! My husband, Jeff, and I are raising our four children in Homer, just around the corner from where I grew up.

As a young Alaskan, my first jobs were working in the fishing and tourism industries and helping with the family business. I graduated from our local university with degrees in Small Business and Accounting, traveled the world doing mission work, and have run my own businesses. These past several years have been spent discovering ways to serve our community through actively participating in the governmental process; researching legislative bills and advocating for accountability. With a solid understanding of the needs of our district, I know what it takes to put fish in the freezer and bread on the table.

STATEMENT:

District 31 deserves a representative who will work to preserve your life, liberty, and property! My first priority is to secure the safety of our citizens; it is time to prove that crime does not pay in Alaska. Priority #2: Restore the PFD to its full historical formula. The Permanent Fund Dividend belongs to The People of Alaska and should remain permanent for generations to come! Priority #3: Reduce burdensome taxation. I say NO to state income tax. Alaska has a spending problem, and it is time to tighten the belt. Priority #4: Expand job opportunities. Getting more Alaskans trained and working will stimulate the economy and build a prosperous future.

I believe in the values of our founding fathers and our Constitutional Republic; that government can and should be legally limited in its powers, and that its authority or legitimacy depends on observing these limitations.

As your Republican candidate; I support the values and platforms of the Alaska Republican Party. I will vote according to the needs of our district and will not be swayed by self-seeking politicians and special interest groups. When you vote VANCE, you elect a leader who will listen to your concerns and implement your ideas.

Alaska has a bright future! As your representative; I will fight to restore the PFD, expand job opportunities, and advocate for families, seniors, and Veterans.

VOTE VANCE on November 6th!

OTHER:

Growing up I was raised by a single mother with four kids. I remember walking for blocks with a giant garbage bag collecting aluminum cans so we could have extra spending money at the end of the month. And I remember my mom always being so tired, but still managing to take night classes. She eventually earned enough credits to get a promotion, and that changed my family's life forever. That is when I decided to focus on my education. While earning my doctorate I spent the majority of my weekends helping the homeless and traveling to Tijuana to treat deported veterans. I've devoted my life to helping those who are struggling most, and I have no intention of stopping now.

STATEMENT:

There are thousands of Alaskans barely making ends meet, stuck living paycheck to paycheck. I'm running because I've felt that pain. If you vote for me I'll fight my heart out everyday so our families can have a better life, and so Alaska will have a brighter future.

X. Making Housing Affordable: Increase development of both lower & middle income housing. Create jobs

X. Healthcare: Focus on primary/preventative care, increase transparency with insurance and pharmaceutical companies to bring down cost.

X. Minimum Wage: Increase yearly until full time is $30,000. Tie to inflation

X. Money Out Of Politics: Big money out! We need representatives that represent us, not their donors

X. Invest In Renewable Energy: Fossil fuels are not a long term plan, we need new sources of revenue and jobs

X. Strengthen PFD: Cutting it hurts hardworking people most. Tie to renewable energy so it is owned by the people and preserved for generations

X. Protect Fishing for Generations: Increase access for younger generations; don't trade a sustainable resource for a 1 time extraction.

X. Empower Tribal Nations: Support tribal sovereignty, protect sacred places, increase consultation

X. Invest in Education: Expand Pre-K, invest in public education (including college, vocation, trade)

X. Income Inequality: We live in the richest country in the world, but most of that wealth is controlled by a tiny handful of individuals. Demand that the wealthy and large corporations pay their fair share in taxes.

X. Opioid Epidemic: Prescriber training & increase access to recovery services

I'm Sandra M. Katelnikoff-Lester running to represent District 32 in the Alaska House of Representatives.

My parents are Fred Katelnikoff Sr. from Ouzinkie, deceased and Sophie Shepard from Karluk. I was born in Karluk and remained a resident of Alaska my entire life. Gary and I co-own and work Lester Brothers Inc.

I'm familiar with the challenges that people in District 32 face. We were raised on subsistence and teach our children the subsistence way of life while supplementing our resources with income driven cash. I grew up subsistence/commercial fishing. I've experience working for Tribal, City and State governments developing, implementing, and/or adhering to rules and regulations that benefit our communities through subsistence practices, economic development and education. We are in a time where we all must work together to benefit our future.

I would appreciate your vote in November and look forward to serving as your representative.

Quyanaa!

Sandra M. Katelnikoff-Lester

STATEMENT:

It is crucial that the State of Alaska has a balanced, sustainable budget going into the future. This is necessary in order to provide a stable economy for Alaskans, as well as businesses and future investors in our state. Fish and fish related occupations are this state's largest private direct employer, we need to maintain a healthy, sustainable renewable resource in fish. Sufficient funding of the Department of Fish and Game is imperative. It is our duty to protect all of our natural resources for the betterment of the people of this state. Our Public Safety needs to be funded in a manner so our citizens can feel safe. As a Coastal Legislator, I recognize that a safe, dependable Alaska Marine Highway System is critical to our survival as coastal communities.

In order to accomplish these and other needs for Alaskans, it is necessary to have the ability and relationships to work across the table with all legislators. My record for the last 4 years clearly shows that I have created those successful, mutually beneficial relationships regardless of party affiliation.

STATEMENT:

I believe the most important thing that needs worked on is a balanced sustainable budget. With a sustainable budget we can drill down in to the rest of the issues such as education, safe communities, jobs, and a stable business climate. Alaska needs to find a way to get off the rollercoaster budgets so we can plan a future.

Without a stable economy jobs are on the line every day. Alaskans wonder if they'll have a job next week, if there will be work next construction season, or a teaching job next school year. Without answers to these questions workers will not be spending money in local businesses.

As budgets in schools get cut class sizes grow. Some students start falling behind and then more and more drop out of school. Some of our best teachers are leaving to find a more secure job elsewhere.

As the economy drops, Capital Budgets are the first cuts made, costing the state in many ways. We lose good paying construction jobs as many of our best trained workers head south to find work. This saps the local business economy. Less wage earners means less shopping for food and other retail merchandise.
We lose businesses that supply goods and services for projects.

When you add up all the job loss and the inability to pay bills or have food and shelter crime can't help but rise. A stable, predictable budget with a diversification of revenues is the key to rebuilding our communities.

- Public Safety. I worked to boost staffing at the Juneau Police Department and support addiction treatment.
- Education. Always a strong vote for K-12 school funding, I helped lead the charge to anchor the Alaska College of Education at UAS. I push for more quality child care, and I volunteer in our schools.
- Equality. I wrote Juneau's equal rights law.
- Working Alaskans. Whether it's pushing to return real pensions for public servants or project labor agreements for the building trades, I work to get Alaskans fair pay and decent benefits.
- Infrastructure. I pushed investments in our Docks & Harbors, the North Douglas Highway extension, road safety projects around the region, and a stable Marine Highway System.
- Working together. I led Juneau's groundbreaking support for Tlingit & Haida on Tribal land issues.
- Clean Air and Water. Commercial fishing is vital to our economy, just as sport fishing & hunting are to our families.
- Budget. As chair of Juneau's Finance Committee, I know what it takes to build sustainable budgets. A strong fiscal foundation is key to building Alaska's bright future.

I'd be honored to serve you as the next senator for Juneau, Haines, Skagway, Klukwan, and Gustavus.

I have spent most of my adult working life in the construction trade and advocating for worker's rights; as well as having been a small business owner. My family has a long, rich history of service in this State and I look forward to continuing that legacy of service to Alaska.

STATEMENT:

Like many in this district, I am registered as an undeclared voter and while many of my core values align with Democrats, neither party has all the answers. Individual voters matter and party politics can drown out the voices of reason and smother the good ideas with party restraints. Working independently across party lines will take leadership and is the only way to end the bitter partisanship that has gridlocked our administration. Government needs to measure its own effectiveness by ensuring the public retains access to their elected representatives; and guarantee opportunities, resources, and goods are distributed fairly for the benefit of all Alaskans. My on the job experience running construction projects and most recently advocating for worker's rights has given me the experience to know that I can fill that leadership role as an independent voice for House District 33. I humbly ask for your vote this November.

STATEMENT:

I have made Southeast Alaska my home for 32 years. I grew up in Anchorage and graduated from the University of Alaska Fairbanks. I am running for the legislative seat in House District 33 because I want to be a legislative advocate for our region.

I will fight for education. Our future lies in a quality education for our children. I will work to bring down health care costs in Alaska so senior citizens can afford to stay in Alaska. I will build an economy that keeps Alaskans in sustainable jobs. I will make sure Juneau remains the capital. I will defend our natural resources.

I spent three decades in education, teaching high school for over 20 years. I have been active in my community as a volunteer, working to support families, those less fortunate, and the environment. My husband, Mark, and I have a small business selling locally caught fish. I enjoy exploring the outdoors in our beautiful Southeast rainforest.

I'm running for State House because I care about my community and our state. This is a critical time for Alaskans. We face budget deficits, cuts to essential state services, and a shrinking Permanent Fund Dividend.

We can keep Alaska a great place to work and raise our families. Together we can ensure that our vision for our region will be the future we want. I will work for you as State Representative for House District 33.

I enjoyed coaching Juneau youth baseball and hockey, and for past 15 years, I have refereed hockey games 10-15 hours per week during the season. When not on the ice, fishing or doing Assembly work, I garden in the summertime, hunt in the fall, walk my dogs, bake and home-brew all year round.

STATEMENT:
Public safety is my #1 priority.

Alaska's crime rate must be lowered. My 24-year career in law enforcement has given me the experience necessary to work with prosecutors, police, victims and social service groups to find solutions.

My views on crime, taxation and keeping Alaska affordable reflect those of my Mendenhall Valley neighbors. We must balance the budget without cutting essential state services, especially public safety and education.

Our quality of life – and future – requires safe neighborhoods, great schools, a variety of job opportunities, and keeping the Capital in Juneau.

Serving six years on the Juneau Assembly gave me broad experience with many critical and complex local issues - from harbors and homelessness to economic development and community sustainability. I've worked on mining, tourism, child care, and senior issues. I'm well-prepared for the challenges of the State Legislature.

I firmly believe in sustainable budgets, individual rights and personal property rights.

Like many in Juneau, we came to Alaska looking for opportunity and adventure. We worked, saved and bought a home in the Mendenhall Valley. I rose through the ranks from Patrolman to Captain in the Juneau Police Department. Now running my own commercial fishing vessel, I've gained valuable perspectives on operating a small business.

I have nearly 30 years of community service in Juneau and a history of working successfully with others. My family is invested in Juneau. If elected, I'll work tirelessly to protect, serve, and strengthen our community and our state.

OTHER:

Married 32 years. Mike is an engineer and partial owner of a business.

STATEMENT:

Rebuilding and growing our economy is Alaska's greatest challenge. I am hearing from hundreds of our neighbors going door-to-door and, more than ever, I am hearing a lot of worry. Jobs are disappearing; people are leaving. The cost of health care, housing, and childcare are out of reach for many. Families are concerned about getting a good education for their kids. And some fear losing the dividend.

The lack of a stable budget has put at risk the things that Alaskans care about: good jobs, great schools for our kids, and safe, healthy communities.

It is time for leaders to have the courage to put together a balanced, sustainable budget that protects essential services, puts people back to work, and assures the dividend.

While serving on the local School Board for 15 years, Juneau's and Alaska's education systems have been my priority. Education is not just sending kids to school so they learn to read and write. Education is building a brighter and more prosperous future for Alaskans. I am ready to serve in the Legislature and to help build a promising future by being a solutions-focused leader who will work with anyone to improve the lives of Alaskans.

My vision for a stronger Alaska includes safely developing our resources, increasing educational attainment for everyone, fostering innovation, protecting and honoring our seniors, keeping our streets safe, and continually improving government. Those priorities, along with many more, are how we make sure Alaska is a place where all families can thrive.

I love Southeast Alaska and I love our region's way of life. As a representative of Southeast Alaska, I love that my job description is to help make our region more vibrant, sustainable, prosperous, and a better place to live.

I can't imagine a better job description. That's why I'm running for reelection.

To get a sense of who I am, let me share a few but important principles I believe in:

I believe in the politics of humility: good ideas are good ideas no matter where they come from, and good people are good people no matter what party they belong to.

I serve as an Alaskan, not as a Democrat or a Republican; I believe bipartisanship and civility are as important to our politics as salmon and oil are to our economy.

The bipartisan coalition, to which I belong and which I worked to help create, has been very good for coastal Alaska. I will help it continue.

I really like hard work.

I care about the people I represent. I find meaning in working on an individual, case-by-case basis, and believe in the importance of attention to detail and follow through.

I am grateful for your consideration, and I would be more grateful yet for your support.

STATEMENT:

I'm not just any candidate running for the Alaska's State House. Throughout my career, I have been an effective, thoughtful leader not only as a physician/surgeon, but also to my community as a citizen advocate and Assemblyman for Sitka. My life has revolved around problem solving and working with people—taking complex information, synthesizing it, and crafting workable solutions for everyone.

Whether the issue is fighting for the Alaska Marine Highway; stopping the job loss; insuring Fish and Game has the necessary tools it needs; utilizing our state resources smartly for the benefit of our citizens; restoring the Permanent Fund; targeting the achievement gap in our educational system; achieving security for our citizens, especially in our rural areas; supporting issues special to the Native community; and really, really balancing the budget... the solutions are there! Of note, being the only trained physician/surgeon in the State House, my contribution to healthcare policy will be unique and powerful, especially since healthcare costs are beginning to overwhelm our resources.

Missing out on our current rising national economy, Alaska is at a crossroad. Our state ranks both first and last in the wrong things, and we can't just sit back any longer and ignore the obvious. We need to change the way we do business. Dealing with the same problems year in and year out doesn't work anymore. New hands on the rudder are needed, if we are to change our course with new approaches and fresh ideas.

I have had the good fortune to be a resident of Ketchikan for over 50 years. My wife, Lori, and I, along with our three children, have been blessed to live in a region where the sense of community is valued and preserved. It is my goal to show my gratitude for what I have been given by serving as the voice in our state government for each community in District 36. My highest priority has been to accurately represent the viewpoints of the residents of Hyder, Hydaburg, Ketchikan, Loring, Metlakatla, Meyers Chuck, Saxman, and Wrangell. I have made a dedicated effort to do so by faithfully responding to constituent inquiries, hosting town hall meetings, conducting several fiscal plan surveys, and by walking door to door.

My term in office reflects a specific commitment to: senior citizens, the fishing industry, the Alaska Marine Highway, and public education.

As I file again as a non-partisan independent for election to the Alaska State House of Representatives, I re-affirm my pledge to listen first so that I may faithfully represent the viewpoints of the residents of District 36. Together, we can form a government of the people, by the people, and for the people.

Ballot Measure No. 1 - 17FSH2
An act providing for the protection of wild salmon and fish and wildlife habitat

Ballot Measure No. 1

This act would amend Alaska's fish habitat permitting law. The act would require the Department of Fish and Game (ADF&G) to apply new standards to permitting activities and development projects that have the potential to harm fish habitat. The act would exempt existing projects, operations, or facilities that have received all state and federal permits until a new permit is needed. The act would create fish and wildlife habitat-protection standards. The standards would address water quality, temperature, streamflow, and more. The act defines "anadromous fish habitat." The act would allow ADF&G to apply the law to all habitat in Alaska that directly or indirectly supports salmon or other anadromous fish. The act would provide for three types of permits for development in anadromous fish habitat. ADF&G could issue a general permit—a single permit that applies to many people—for certain activities. For other activities that require a permit, the act would establish a two-track permitting system. Minor permits would be issued for activities that have little impact on fish habitat. Major permits would be issued for projects that have the potential to cause significant adverse effects on fish habitat. The act defines "significant adverse effects." The act would require ADF&G to avoid or minimize adverse effects through mitigation measures and permit conditions. It would provide public notice on all permits and a chance to comment on major permits. The act would create criteria, timeframes, and an appeals process for the permits by interested persons. The act would allow ADF&G to respond to specified conduct with tickets, civil fines, or criminal penalties. The act would repeal two current statutes. One is regarding mitigation from a dam. The other is regarding criminal penalties that are addressed elsewhere.

Legislative Affairs Agency Summary

The Act defines the term “anadromous fish habitat” and sets new standards to protect it. The standards relate to factors such as water quality and flow. The Act requires the Department of Fish and Game to specify which water bodies and areas of the state are this habitat. If the status of some water bodies is not known, the Act provides that the water bodies will be treated as this habitat. The Department of Fish and Game may check a water body and exclude it from that status. The Act requires permits for activities that may affect this habitat. The Act creates three types of permit. A general permit would allow some low impact activities for all persons in an area.

Ballot Measure No. 1

An Act Providing for the Protection of Wild Salmon and Fish and Wildlife Habitat

Other activities would need a minor or a major permit. An activity that will not have significant adverse effects would require a minor permit. An activity that could significantly affect the habitat would require a major permit. If possible, an activity must avoid or cause the least harm to the habitat. The Act provides that the adverse effects of some activities may be mitigated. Any activity that now has a permit would not have to comply with the Act until its permit expires. The Act sets permit criteria. The Act creates a process for public notice and comment on permit requests. The Act provides for permit appeals and review. The Act provides for injunctions and civil and criminal penalties.

Statement of Costs

Estimate of Costs to the State of Alaska for Implementation of the Voter Initiative: Providing Protection of Wild Salmon and Fish and Wildlife Habitat (17FSH2)

Multi Agency Cost Summary

Agency	Cost
Department of Fish and Game – Habitat Component	$1,319,000
Department of Environmental Conservation – Water Quality Component	$268,300
Department of Law – Civil Division, Natural Resources Component	$450,000
Office of the Lieutenant Governor	$9,000
Office of the Lieutenant Governor – Division of Elections	$49,685
TOTAL	$2,095,985

Estimate of Costs to the Departments of Fish and Game, Environmental Conservation, and Law to Implement the Ballot Initiative

Estimate of Costs to the Department of Fish and Game – Statewide Support Services, Habitat Component

As required by AS 15.45.090(a)(4), the Alaska Department of Fish and Game has prepared the following statement of costs to implement the proposed ballot initiative. If approved, the initiative would take effect 90 days following election certification.

Estimate by Category

Personal Services	$1,087,000
Other Costs	$232,000
TOTAL	$1,319,000

The initiative would require the development of regulations to identify how various changes to Title 16.05.867, 16.05.871, 16.05.875, 16.05.877, 16.05.883, 16.05.884, 16.05.885, 16.05.887, 16.05.889, 16.05.894, and 16.05.901 would be implemented.

The standards under which the Department of Fish and Game would operate when issuing a permit to ensure proper protection of anadromous fish habitat include maintaining water quality and water temperature; instream flows; efficient upstream and downstream passage of fish; habitat dependent connections between anadromous fish habitat including surface groundwater connections; stream, river, and lake bank and bed stability; aquatic habitat diversity, productivity, stability, and function; riparian areas that support fish and wildlife habitat; and any additional criteria adopted by regulation.

Ballot Measure No. 1

An Act Providing for the Protection of Wild Salmon and Fish and Wildlife Habitat

The initiative would require the following new actions by the division: presume that all naturally occurring connected water bodies and adjacent riparian areas are anadromous and therefore jurisdictional, site specific written determinations to determine if a waterbody is not important anadromous fish habitat; specify in regulation all de minimus activities that do not require a permit and require anadromous fish habitat permits for all activities not specified, public notice of proposed general permits with the possibility of a least one public hearing if requested by an interested person; requirement to renew general permits every five years; requirement to provide written authorization for an individual to operate under a general permit; public notice for permit amendments; public notice to rescind a permit; conduct an assessment and determination on whether a fish habitat permit is minor or major; collect fees equal to the cost of service for major fish habitat permit assessments¹; public notice draft major anadromous fish habitat permit assessment and make copy of application available to the public; determine the amount of the performance bond if the permittee is not in compliance; determine if the proposed activity is likely to cause substantial damage to anadromous fish habitat; determine if anadromous fish habitat will recover or be restored within a reasonable period of time, respond to and address public input on major fish habitat permits, and respond to and address reconsideration requests on proposed major anadromous fish habitat permits; and in some cases repair habitat damage and bill respondents as the result of violations using state agency employees.

The initiative also identifies those cases where the Commissioner may not issue a permit for a proposed activity. Compliance with these new actions would require the hiring of habitat biologists, an analyst programmer, and program technicians to implement public notices, postings, responses to public input, public hearings, draft anadromous fish habitats, etc. A public education component should be considered to inform the public of the Department's new and expanded jurisdictional authorities as well as newly expanded potential penalties (daily separate Class A misdemeanors) for non-compliance. The division anticipates the regulation development could take at least two years and implementation of the new regulations and criteria would take additional years to develop and implement.

The Commissioner will need assistance in the form of subject matter expertise (managers, biologists, analyst programmer) from staff and legal assistance in order to develop regulations, public notice the regulations, respond to public comments on proposed regulations, and finalize a regulation package. Implementation of the new regulation package would affect all managers, habitat biologists, and fish and game program technicians in all offices along with analyst programmer support to implement and comply with the new regulations as written.

¹ Allows Habitat Division to collect fees for major fish habitat permit applications, but those monies would go into the general fund.

Estimate of Costs to the Department of Environmental Conservation – Division of Water, Water Quality Component

As required by AS 15.45.090(a)(4), the Alaska Department of Environmental Conservation has prepared the following statement of costs to implement the proposed ballot initiative. If approved, the initiative would take effect 90 days following election certification.

Estimate by Category

Personal Services	$211,600
Other Costs	$56,700
TOTAL	$268,300

The initiative requires several changes to the permitting program in the Department of Fish and Game, Habitat Division. These changes will impact the Department of Environmental Conservation's permitting and engineering plan review of wastewater discharges to all fresh waters in Alaska.

The initiative creates a rebuttable presumption that all waters in Alaska are anadromous. Alaska's Water Quality Standards at 18 AAC 70.255(h)(1) states that mixing zones will not be allowed in an area of anadromous fish spawning. The presumption per the initiative can be rebutted by the Department of Fish and Game, but unless and until this occurs, all discharges will be presumed to be ineligible for mixing zones and thus needing to meet water quality criteria at the "end-of-pipe," the point at which the discharge enters the receiving water.

Division of Water permit application reviews are expected to increase in complexity as industry and municipalities work within the changed model of all fresh waters being presumed anadromous. This presumption increases complexity for applicants as it is predicted that numerous facilities will be required to meet the end-of-pipe limits.

Existing fees cover approximately 60 percent of the cost of permitting and plan review activities. It will take a year to enact new regulations before the Department can begin collecting fees to cover this activity. FY2018 will be funded entirely by general funds while new staff are brought on and trained and new regulations are developed. Revenues reflect a proportional shift to general fund program receipts starting in FY2019 as new regulations are implemented and additional fees are collected.

Personal Services: An Environmental Program Specialist III will be responsible for permit application reviews and will be required to address the additional workload without causing a backlog in the permitting. An Engineer I at DEC will be needed for review and approval of engineering plans for treatment system changes needed to meet the more stringent limits. Both positions will be located in Anchorage.

Other Costs: The new Environmental Program Specialist will require permit writer training, which is only available out-of-state at this time. Limited in-state travel will be required to conduct compliance inspections annually. DEC will require assistance from the Department of Law for consultation during the development of new regulations. The new employees will require equipment for the first year, and normal office supply needs in subsequent years.

Estimate of Costs to the Department of Law – Civil Division, Natural Resources Component

As required by AS 15.45.090(a)(4), the Alaska Department of Law has prepared the following statement of costs to implement the proposed ballot initiative. If approved, the initiative would take effect 90 days following election certification.

Estimate by Category

Personal Services	$376,400
Other Costs	$73,600
TOTAL	$450,000

The initiative would amend AS 16.05 (Fish and Game) by creating a new permitting system for activities that have the potential to affect anadromous fish habitat. The initiative would establish fish and wildlife protection standards that would guide permit issuance. Under the initiative, the Commissioner of the Alaska Department of Fish & Game (ADF&G) would be required to specify anadromous fish habitat in regulation. The initiative would presume that, absent a regulation to the contrary or a site-specific determination and written finding by ADF&G, a naturally occurring surface water body, including all upstream tributaries, is anadromous fish habitat if it is connected to anadromous waters specified as such in regulation or connected to marine waters.

The initiative would require a person to obtain an anadromous fish habitat permit to conduct certain activities in anadromous fish habitat. The initiative would establish classification standards for minor and major anadromous fish habitat permits and provide for public notice periods. For major anadromous fish habitat permits, the initiative would also require ADF&G to prepare a draft and final assessment. The initiative would also create a general permit for minor activities and establish mandatory criteria that must be met for issuance. In addition, the initiative would specify criteria that, if met, would preclude the issuance of a permit.

The initiative would provide for a process by which an applicant could request reconsideration of a determination of the commissioner. The Commissioner's determination upon reconsideration would be the final administrative decision for purposes of appeal to the superior court.

The initiative would also create civil penalties for certain violations. Notice and an adjudicatory hearing would first be afforded to an alleged offender. The initiative also provides that if a respondent violates an order issued under AS 16.05.894, the Attorney General, upon request of the Commissioner, may seek an injunction requiring the respondent to suspend an activity.

The Department of Law provides legal counsel to ADF&G. The initiative would potentially significantly increase the current amount of ADF&G permitting and appeals because it would broaden the expanse of water bodies in the state deemed to be anadromous fish habitat, expand the scope of activities that would require permits, create a detailed permit consideration process, and provide for reconsideration and appeal of a determination of the Commissioner under AS 16.05.871(e), AS 16.05.875(c) or (d), AS 16.05.883, AS 16.05.884(d) or (f), or AS 16.05.885(d).

Ballot Measure No. 1

An Act Providing for the Protection of Wild Salmon and Fish and Wildlife Habitat

The Department of Law anticipates that two additional full-time civil attorneys would be needed to perform the legal work this initiative would create -- one attorney primarily focused on permitting and appeals and one attorney primarily focused on enforcement, while providing support to permitting and appeals as needed. ADF&G would be responsible for developing regulations to implement the initiative's provisions, and the Department of Law would likely need to provide assistance with the regulations.

Estimate of Costs to the Office of the Lieutenant Governor and the Division of Elections for the Ballot Initiative

As required by AS 15.45.090(a)(3), the Alaska Office of the Lieutenant Governor has prepared the following statement of minimum costs associated with the proposed ballot initiative. If approved, the initiative would take effect 90 days following election certification.

Office of the Lieutenant Governor

Assuming the initiative is placed on the ballot, the minimum cost to conduct public hearings concerning the initiative in two communities in each of four judicial districts is estimated to be $9,000.

Estimate by Category

Travel	$ 9,000
TOTAL	$ 9,000

Travel: Estimated travel expenses include round-trip air transportation, per diem and other associated travel costs for the Lieutenant Governor and staff to travel to seven communities in Alaska. It is assumed one of the hearings would be in Anchorage which would not involve travel costs.

Division of Elections

As required by AS 15.45.090(a)(3), the Division of Elections has prepared the following statement of costs to implement the proposed ballot initiative.

The minimum cost to the Division of Elections associated with certification of the initiative application and review of the initiative petition, excluding legal costs to the state and the costs to the state of any challenge to the validity of the petition, is estimated to be $49,685.

Estimate by Category

Personal Services	$48,385
Printing Services	$1,300
TOTAL	$49,685

Personal Services: Six temporary employees to review signatures for 2,520 hours.
Estimated cost: $30,618

Certification of the initiative application and review of the initiative petition estimated for 546 hours
Estimated cost: $17,767

Printing Services: Printing service expenses associated with certification of the initiative application and review of initiative petition. Printing of voter booklets: $1,300

An Act Providing for the Protection of Wild Salmon and Fish and Wildlife Habitat

Full Text of Proposed Law

“An Act providing for protection of wild salmon and fish and wildlife habitat”

BE IT ENACTED BY THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF ALASKA:

*Section 1. The uncodified law of the State of Alaska is amended by adding a section to read:

Alaska Fish Habitat Policy.

Because wild salmon are critically important to Alaska’s communities, economies and cultures, it is the policy of the State of Alaska to:

- (a) ensure sustainable fisheries for current and future generations by maintaining wild salmon stocks, other anadromous fish species, and important fish and wildlife habitat;
- (b) protect water resources and habitat that support Alaska’s wild salmon and other anadromous fish species;
- (c) ensure that development activities comply with enforceable standards that protect wild salmon, other anadromous fish species, and important fish and wildlife habitat; and
- (d) ensure that the Department of Fish and Game protects the natural fishery resources of Alaska consistent with Article VIII of the Alaska Constitution.

*Section 2. AS 16.05 is amended by adding a new section to read:

Sec. 16.05.867. Fish and wildlife habitat protection standards.

- (a) The commissioner shall ensure the proper protection of fish and wildlife, including protecting anadromous fish habitat from significant adverse effects.
- (b) When issuing a permit under AS 16.05.867-16.05.901, the commissioner shall ensure the proper protection of anadromous fish habitat by maintaining:
 - (1) water quality and water temperature necessary to support anadromous fish habitat;
 - (2) instream flows, the duration of flows, and natural and seasonal flow regimes;
 - (3) safe, timely and efficient upstream and downstream passage of anadromous and native resident fish species to spawning, rearing, migration, and overwintering habitat;
 - (4) habitat-dependent connections between anadromous fish habitat including surface- groundwater connections;
 - (5) stream, river and lake bank and bed stability;
 - (6) aquatic habitat diversity, productivity, stability and function;
 - (7) riparian areas that support adjacent fish and wildlife habitat; and
 - (8) any additional criteria, consistent with the requirements of AS 16.05.867-AS 16.05.901, adopted by the commissioner by regulation.
- (c) The commissioner is authorized, in accordance with AS 44.62, to adopt regulations consistent with AS 16.05.867-16.05.901. All regulations, administrative actions and other duties carried out under this chapter shall be consistent with and in furtherance of the standards set out in this section.

Ballot Measure No. 1

An Act Providing for the Protection of Wild Salmon and Fish and Wildlife Habitat

*Section 3. AS 16.05.871 is repealed and reenacted to read:

Sec. 16.05.871. Fish habitat permit required for certain activities in anadromous fish habitat.

- (a) Except as provided under AS 16.05.891, a person must obtain an anadromous fish habitat permit under AS 16.05.867 - 16.05.901 before initiating any activity that may use, divert, obstruct, pollute, disturb or otherwise alter anadromous fish habitat. The commissioner may specify in regulation activities that do not require an anadromous fish habitat permit if the activity has only a de minimis effect on anadromous fish habitat.
- (b) The commissioner shall specify in regulation anadromous fish habitat.
- (c) In the absence of a specification under (b) or a site-specific determination by the department under (e) of this section, the commissioner shall presume that a naturally occurring permanent or seasonal surface water body, including all upstream tributaries and segments, is anadromous fish habitat if it is connected to anadromous waters specified under (b) of this section or connected to marine waters.
- (d) The presumption established under (c) of this section applies exclusively to AS 16.05.867- 16.05.901.
- (e) The department may conduct a site-specific review at the request of an applicant to determine whether to exclude a water body from the presumption established under (c) of this section. A determination that a water body is not anadromous fish habitat must be supported by the commissioner's written finding and verifiable documentation that it is not anadromous fish habitat. Any site-specific determination must be made available on the department's internet website with public notice provided through the Alaska Online Public Notice System (AS 44.62.175). The commissioner shall adopt regulations specifying how the department shall conduct site-specific reviews.
- (f) In this chapter, "anadromous fish habitat" means a naturally occurring permanent or intermittent seasonal water body, and the bed beneath, including all sloughs, backwaters, portions of the floodplain covered by the mean annual flood, and adjacent riparian areas, that contribute, directly or indirectly, to the spawning, rearing, migration, or overwintering of anadromous fish.

*Section 4. AS 16.05 is amended by adding a new section to read:

Sec. 16.05.875. Anadromous fish habitat permit application.

- (a) An applicant for an anadromous fish habitat permit shall complete an application on a form approved by the department for a permit under AS 16.05.867-16.05.901 and submit the application to the department. The commissioner shall require or collect all information, plans and specifications necessary to assess the proposed activity's potential adverse effects on anadromous fish habitat, and may collect or request additional information to evaluate an application. An applicant shall provide all information required or requested by the commissioner to assess a proposed activity's effects on anadromous fish habitat, including
 - (1) the scope, timing and duration of the proposed activity; and
 - (2) mitigation measures planned for areas of affected anadromous fish habitat.
- (b) Upon receiving a complete fish habitat permit application and any other information

- requested or collected by the commissioner, the commissioner shall determine whether the proposed activity has the potential to cause significant adverse effects on anadromous fish habitat under AS 16.05.877(a). Before making the determination, the commissioner may work with the applicant in planning the activity to avoid or minimize the activity's potential adverse effects on anadromous fish habitat.
- (c) If the commissioner finds that a proposed activity with proposed conditions and mitigation measures will not cause significant adverse effects to anadromous fish habitat under AS 16.05.877(a), the commissioner shall determine the application is for a minor anadromous fish habitat permit under AS 16.05.883.
 - (d) If the commissioner finds that a proposed activity has the potential to cause significant adverse effects to anadromous fish habitat under AS 16.05.877(a), the commissioner shall determine the application is for a major anadromous fish habitat permit under AS 16.05.885.
 - (e) The department shall provide public notice of a determination made under this section. The department shall
 - (1) post notice of the determination on the Alaska Online Public Notice System (AS 44.62.175); and
 - (2) make a copy of the application available on the department's website.

*Section 5. AS 16.05 is amended by adding a new section to read:

Sec. 16.05.877. Significant adverse effects.

- (a) The commissioner shall find the potential for significant adverse effects where the activity may, singly or in combination with other factors:
 - (1) impair or degrade any habitat characteristic protected under AS 16.05.867;
 - (2) interfere with or prevent the spawning, rearing, or migration of anadromous fish at any life stage;
 - (3) result in conditions known to cause increased mortality of anadromous fish at any life stage;
 - (4) lower the capacity of anadromous waters to maintain aquatic diversity, productivity or stability; or
 - (5) impair any additional criteria, consistent with the requirements of AS 16.05.867-16.05.901, adopted by the commissioner through regulation.
- (b) The commissioner shall find that the proposed activity will cause substantial damage to anadromous fish habitat and fish and wildlife species if, despite the application of scientifically proven, peer reviewed and accepted mitigation measures under AS 16.05.887, the anadromous fish habitat will be adversely affected such that it will not likely recover or be restored within a reasonable period to a level that sustains the water body's, or portion of the water body's, anadromous fish, other fish, and wildlife that depend on the health and productivity of that anadromous fish habitat.
- (c) In determining whether anadromous fish habitat will recover or be restored within a reasonable period under this section, the commissioner shall account for the life stage, life span, and reproductive behavior of the species of anadromous fish that depend on the habitat adversely affected by the proposed activity using the best available scientific information.

- (d) In determining whether adversely affected anadromous fish species will remain sustainable and recover, the commissioner shall consider likely post-project conditions known to result in the mortality of anadromous fish at any life stage, and known to interfere with or prevent spawning, rearing or migration of anadromous fish using the best available scientific information.

*Section 6. AS 16.05 is amended by adding new sections to read:

Sec. 16.05.883. Minor individual anadromous fish habitat permit.

- (a) A minor anadromous fish habitat permit may be issued by the commissioner for an activity if the commissioner determines that:
 - (1) all application requirements under AS 16.05.875 are met, including the determination that the activity will not cause significant adverse effects to anadromous fish habitat; and
 - (2) public notice has been given as required in AS 16.05.875(e).
- (b) The minor anadromous fish habitat permit under this section must include all permit conditions or mitigation measures required of the permittee under AS 16.05.887.

Sec. 16.05.884. General permits for minor activities.

- (a) The commissioner may authorize a general permit on a regional or other geographical basis for similar activities, if the commissioner determines that:
 - (1) the activity will not singly or cumulatively cause significant adverse effects on anadromous fish habitat;
 - (2) the activity is not related to large-scale development;
 - (3) adverse effects can be avoided by meeting certain conditions and stipulations;
 - (4) any conditions or stipulations are mandatory and enforceable; and
 - (5) a general permit is in the public interest.
- (b) The commissioner may issue a proposed general permit or a person may petition the commissioner to issue a proposed general permit.
- (c) A petition shall include a description of the geographic location and the proposed permitted activity and provide information explaining how the activity meets the requirements under (a) of this section. The commissioner shall determine whether to grant or deny a petition within 30 days.
- (d) When the commissioner makes a determination to propose a general permit under (b) or (c) of this section, the commissioner shall provide public notice of the proposed general permit and provide at least 30 days for receipt of public comments. The commissioner shall hold at least one public hearing if requested by an interested person. If the proposed general permit meets the requirements in (a) of this section, the commissioner may make a determination to issue a general permit.
- (e) The commissioner may issue a regional or geographical authorization to cover any person conducting an activity under a general permit or require a person to first obtain a written authorization from the department before being covered under the general permit. The department shall make general permit authorizations available through

- electronic means. The commissioner shall issue a decision on a request for written authorization within 5 work days after receiving the request. The general permit authorization shall set forth enforceable stipulations to avoid adverse effects to anadromous fish habitat.
- (f) The commissioner shall review a general permit at least every 5 years. The commissioner may make a determination to reissue the general permit if the requirements under (d) of this section are met.
 - (g) The commissioner may amend a general permit at any time to include additional stipulations. The commissioner may rescind a general permit if the commissioner determines that the general permit no longer meets the requirements of (a) of this section. The commissioner shall issue public notice of any proposed permit amendment or the intent to rescind a general permit, and shall provide at least 30 days for receipt of public comments.
 - (h) Notice under this section shall be provided in accordance with AS 16.05.875(e).

Sec. 16.05.885. Major anadromous fish habitat permit.

- (a) Unless reconsideration is requested under AS 16.05.889, the commissioner shall, after providing notice under AS 16.05.875(e) of a determination under AS 16.05.875(d), prepare a draft major anadromous fish habitat permit assessment that identifies and describes:
 - (1) the proposed activity;
 - (2) the extent, timing and duration of the potential adverse effects the activity could have on anadromous fish habitat and other fish and wildlife;
 - (3) possible alternatives or modifications to the proposed activity that will avoid or minimize the activity's potential adverse effects on anadromous fish habitat;
 - (4) any permit conditions and mitigation measures that the department may require of the permittee under AS 16.05.887;
 - (5) the amount of the performance bond necessary to restore anadromous fish habitat if the permittee is not in compliance with the permit conditions and mitigation measures required under AS 16.05.887; and
 - (6) the commissioner's determination of whether the proposed activity's significant adverse effects, singly or in combination with other factors:
 - (A) will be prevented or minimized under AS 16.05.887; or
 - (B) will cause substantial damage to anadromous fish habitat under AS 16.05.877(b).
- (b) The commissioner shall collect, or require the applicant to collect, the information needed for permitting. The commissioner may recover fees equal to the cost of services for collecting the information and conducting the fish habitat permit assessment.
- (c) Upon completion of the draft assessment under (a) of this section, the department shall:
 - (1) post notice on the Alaska Online Public Notice System (AS 44.62.175);
 - (2) make a copy of the draft assessment available on the department's website; and
 - (3) provide at least 30 days for public comment.
- (d) After the completion of the comment period established by (c)(3) of this section and evaluation of the comments received, the commissioner shall publish a final assessment and a written permit determination on the department's website. The final assessment

- must include all of the components required for a draft assessment under (a) of this section. The written permit determination shall set forth the reasons for the decision and the basis for concluding that the requirements of AS 16.05.887 and of (e) of this section are met. The department shall post public notice of the final assessment and permit determination on the Alaska Online Public Notice System (AS 44.62.175) and provide written or electronic notice to each person who commented on the commissioner's determination that the application for the permitted activity was an application for a major permit under AS 16.05.875(d) or on the draft assessment prepared under (a) of this section for the activity.
- (e) The commissioner may issue a major permit to an applicant only if:
 - (1) the public notice period required under (c) of this section is complete;
 - (2) any permit conditions and mitigation measures under AS 16.05.887 are mandatory and enforceable;
 - (3) the applicant, if required, provides the bond required by (g) of this section; and
 - (4) a request for reconsideration of the commissioner's final assessment and written determination under (d) of this section is not timely received under AS 16.05.889.
 - (f) If request for reconsideration of the commissioner's final assessment and written determination issued under (d) of this section is timely received under AS 16.05.889(a), the commissioner shall issue a major permit for the activity when the commissioner
 - (1) denies the request for reconsideration or issues a new determination under AS 16.05.889(c); and
 - (2) finds that the requirements of (e) of this section have been met.
 - (g) After the commissioner issues a written permit determination under (d) of this section, the applicant shall file with the commissioner, on a form furnished by the commissioner, a performance bond in an amount established by the commissioner payable to the State of Alaska and conditioned on faithful performance of the requirements of this chapter and the permit. The commissioner may not issue a permit until an applicant files the bond in an amount sufficient to ensure compliance with permit terms and the completion of the mitigation measures determined necessary by the commissioner under AS 16.05.887 and included in the written permit determination posted under (d) of this section. The performance bond may be a corporate surety bond issued by a corporation licensed to do business in the state or a personal bond secured by cash or its equivalent. The commissioner may not accept a bond executed by the applicant without separate surety.
 - (h) A governmental entity or federally recognized tribe is exempt from the bonding requirements of this section.
 - (i) A permittee may not transfer or assign authority to conduct an activity that requires a permit under this section to another person without:
 - (1) the written approval of the commissioner; and
 - (2) posting a performance bond for the transferee or assignee as required under (g) of this section, unless the transferee or assignee is exempt under (h) of this section.
 - (j) In this section "federally recognized tribe" has the meaning given in AS 23.20.520.

The commissioner shall require a permittee under AS 16.05.885 to implement the permitted activity in a manner that avoids significant adverse effects to anadromous fish habitat or, if significant adverse effects cannot be avoided, to mitigate significant adverse effects to fish and wildlife including anadromous fish habitat under (b) of this section.

 - (1) limit adverse effects of the activity on anadromous fish habitat by changing the siting, timing, procedure, or other manageable qualities of the activity;
 - (2) if the adverse effects of the activity cannot be prevented under (1) of this subsection, minimize the adverse effects of the activity by limiting the degree, magnitude, duration, or implementation of the activity, including implementing protective measures or control technologies; and

- (d) The commissioner shall require an applicant to employ the best available, scientifically supported techniques to mitigate adverse effects under (b) of this section.
- (e) The department may adopt regulations consistent with AS 16.05.867 - 16.05.901 establishing appropriate permit conditions and mitigation measures applicable to activities subject to permitting requirements under AS 16.05 .883, AS 16.05.884 or AS 16.05.885.

A request for reconsideration must be in writing.
- (b) Within 30 days after receiving a request for reconsideration, the commissioner shall issue a written determination granting or denying the request. If the commissioner does not act on the request for reconsideration within 30 days after receiving the request, the request is denied. If the commissioner grants the request for reconsideration, the commissioner will issue a final determination within 30 days.
- (c) Unless the commissioner orders a remand for further agency proceedings, the commissioner's determination upon reconsideration is the final administrative decision for purposes of appeal to the superior court under AS 44.62.560. A person shall initiate an appeal within 30 days after the date that the final determination is mailed or otherwise distributed, or the date that the request for reconsideration is considered denied by the commissioner's failure to act on the request, whichever is earlier.

Ballot Measure No. 1

An Act Providing for the Protection of Wild Salmon and Fish and Wildlife Habitat

STATEMENT IN SUPPORT

We are fortunate to live in one of the last strongholds of wild salmon in the world. Everywhere else salmon have occurred in Europe and North America, irresponsible development and human activity have wiped out or threatened those salmon populations. Alaska can avoid that same fate by voting YES for Salmon.

Alaska's wild salmon are critical to our state's economy, cultures and way of life. But as our state grows and the number and scale of development projects increase, irresponsible development will cause significant habitat destruction. Unless we strengthen state laws, we could lose this irreplaceable resource that connects us all and defines who we are as Alaskans. What does Alaska look like without our thriving and abundant wild salmon populations? This ballot initiative before you ensures we will never have to answer that question. Please vote YES for Salmon.

Salmon fisheries provide jobs for over 30,000 Alaskans and generate almost $2 billion in economic activity each year. According to the Alaska Department of Fish and Game, salmon provide up to 61% of the protein in the diets of rural Alaskans. Yet the state law intended to protect wild salmon rivers and other habitat is now over sixty years old, has no legally enforceable standards to adequately protect salmon habitat from irresponsible development, and has no process for Alaskans to weigh in on projects that could harm salmon resources.

The Yes for Salmon initiative would bring this outdated and ineffective law into the 21st Century by creating a more transparent, responsible and balanced approach to large-scale development projects. It puts into place modern, science-based safety standards and common-sense accountability to protect Alaska jobs and help prevent major catastrophes that could wipe out huge portions of our state's wild salmon populations.

Here is what voting Yes for Salmon would do:

- Establish clear, enforceable standards for development around salmon streams, requiring things like adequate water in streams, fish passage, and good water quality that wild salmon need and preventing major projects from doing substantial long-term damage to salmon streams;
- Protect access for our subsistence, commercial and sport fishing activities;
- Ensure that Alaskans, for the first time, have a voice in the permitting process for major development projects that could harm salmon streams;
- Give Fish and Game authority over all salmon streams in Alaska;
- Ensure that responsible development projects move forward in a way that protects our wild salmon legacy.

Ballot Measure No. 1

An Act Providing for the Protection of Wild Salmon and Fish and Wildlife Habitat

STATEMENT IN OPPOSITION

Vote NO on 1 to Protect Alaska's Communities, Jobs and Economy

What is Ballot Measure 1?

Ballot Measure 1 will harm Alaska's economy and cost Alaskans their jobs. It eliminates our science-based fish habitat protections and replaces it with more red tape and untested regulations. From road improvements to projects on the North Slope, this measure will shutdown or delay existing operations and future projects and puts our future at risk.

What Will Ballot Measure 1 Do?

It threatens our jobs and our economy; it threatens our rights as property owners; it threatens our ability to maintain or develop public infrastructure; and it doesn't do what supporters say it will: it does not fix the problems facing our salmon runs. None of that should come as a surprise since the measure was created and funded by Outsiders who have no vested interests in Alaska. This would threaten projects and activities including, but not limited to: roads, pipelines, wastewater treatment facilities, docks, bridges, land access, home building, septic systems, hydroelectric power, mining, ice roads, tourism operations and more. And it boosts state spending and the number of state employees.

What Will Voting No on Ballot Measure 1 Do?

- Protect our jobs, our economy and our state revenue
- Maintain our current science-based fish habitat protections
- Allow existing operations, like the Trans-Alaska Oil Pipeline, to continue operating
- Let important new projects, like the Alaska Natural Gas Pipeline, to move forward
- Protect private property owners' rights to build or repair on their own land
- Prevent increases in unnecessary State spending
- Allow important road projects to move forward
- Enable communities to use and develop hydroelectric power
- Preserve Alaska Native corporations' ability to develop their lands

Vote NO to Protect Our Jobs and Economy

Ballot Measure 1 will make it much more costly or impossible for existing and future projects throughout the state—particularly those in rural Alaska—to move forward. Without those projects, Alaska's jobs and economy will be in peril at a time when Alaska is in recession and has the highest jobless numbers in the nation. According to State officials, the measure will cost millions of dollars in new state spending.

Vote NO to Protect Your Rights

Under Ballot Measure 1, simple projects like adding or repairing a dock or a culvert on your property will become tangled in endless red tape. You would have to pay for an expensive scientific study, and your project could be open to public comment, meaning anyone, including Outsiders, could sue to stop your project. And, your failure to navigate the new red tape could land you in jail and result in thousands of dollars in criminal penalties.

Vote NO for a Better Solution

Fisheries scientists say that ocean problems are causing Alaska's low salmon runs. Ballot Measure 1 doesn't address ocean issues at all. This measure doesn't solve the problem and, if it passes, will only make it harder for Alaska to enact better policies.

Judges on the Ballot

Alaska Judicial Council Evaluation and Recommendations

Why do judges appear on the ballot?

The Alaska Constitution and state law require all state judges to appear periodically on the ballot for approval or disapproval by the voters. This power and duty of the people to vote whether to retain judges is a critical part of Alaska’s judicial system.

What information is available about judges on the ballot?

Voters often feel they do not have enough information to vote on judges. To help voters make informed votes, the Alaska Judicial Council is required by law to evaluate the performance of sitting judges who are up for retention, and to make this information available to voters. The Alaska Judicial Council publishes its information in this Election Pamphlet, and on its web site at:

www.knowyouralaskajudges.com.

How are judges chosen in Alaska?

Under the Alaska Constitution, the selection of judges is a two-part process involving the Alaska Judicial Council and the governor.

The Alaska Judicial Council is a non-partisan citizens commission. The Council reviews applications of people who want to be judges and nominates the best-qualified among them. The governor appoints a judge from the list of nominees.

Retention Election. After appointment, judges must appear on the ballot in order to remain judges. The framers of our constitution thus provided Alaskans with a non-partisan, merit-based system of judicial selection, and a retention election that ensures judges remain accountable to the public.

What judicial qualities did the Alaska Judicial Council evaluate?

The Judicial Council evaluated judges’:

- Integrity, diligence, impartiality, fairness, temperament and legal ability,
- Ability to manage caseloads, and
- Overall performance of their duties in and out of the courtroom, including judgment.

What are the Alaska Judicial Council recommendations for judges on the 2018 ballot?

The Judicial Council recommends a vote on all judges standing for retention.
“YES”

Please review the following pages for more details about the recommendation on each judge.

How did the Alaska Judicial Council evaluate the judges on the 2018 ballot?

- Surveyed Thousands of Alaskans: The Judicial Council surveyed peace and probation officers, court employees, attorneys, jurors, and social services professionals.
- Public Hearings & Public Comment: The Judicial Council asked for comments from the public, and held a statewide public hearing.
- Review of Other Information: The Judicial Council reviewed conflict of interest statements filed with the Alaska Public Offices Commission, and separate financial disclosure forms filed with the court system. It reviewed court personnel records. It researched whether any salary warrants were withheld for untimely decisions and whether any disciplinary matters came before the Alaska Commission on Judicial Conduct. The Judicial Council analyzed the number of peremptory challenges filed against a judge, and the number of times the judge’s decisions were reversed on appeal.
- Considered Judges’ Self-Assessments: The Judicial Council invited each judge to assess his or her own performance over his or her most recent term.
- Questioned Attorneys with Recent Experience: The Council invited attorneys who had recently litigated a case before each judge to provide detailed observations about the judge’s performance in that case.

STATEMENT:

I have been proud and honored to serve Southeast Alaska as a Superior Court judge since 2009. I hope and believe that my conduct and performance over the past 9 1/2 years will justify my retention in this position for another term.

Over this time I have presided in cases of all kinds, from those that have had a statewide impact, to others that might only directly affect an individual, a family, or a small child. But every decision a judge makes has some effect, and each must involve a recognition on the part of the judge of this central fact. This means that a thorough understanding of the facts and law to be applied in each instance must be reached in making that decision. The responsibility for doing the right thing is something a judge can never get away from; it is at the core of the job.

I appreciate that this responsibility has been entrusted to me by the State and the people of Southeast Alaska. I love my job, with all its ups and downs, satisfactions and frustrations, trials and, even some errors, as much as I try to limit them. I look forward to continuing in my position.

District Court Judge

Kirsten L. Swanson, First Judicial District

OTHER:

Judge Swanson moved to Alaska 20 years ago after her honorable discharge from the Judge Advocate Corps where she served as a captain in the U.S. Army. She worked for two years in the Juneau Public Defender Agency and then for eighteen months as an Assistant Attorney General before opening her own law office. In private practice Judge Swanson specialized in criminal defense, child in need of aid cases and family law. Judge Swanson practiced in military, federal, state, and municipal courts. In October 2016 Governor Walker appointed Judge Swanson to the Juneau District Court bench.

STATEMENT:

It has been an honor to serve on the District Court bench. I strive to apply the law fairly and impartially. The district court is the place most people encounter the court system, and they have a right to expect fair treatment. All parties have the right to be treated with respect and dignity.

Many of the people who appear in district court suffer from addiction or mental illness. I am grateful for the opportunity to preside over the Juneau Coordinated Resources Project and the Juneau Therapeutic Court. These courts help break the cause and effect of addiction which leads to crime and the destruction of families. Witnessing the success of these court programs is very rewarding.

I hope to continue serving my community and the people of Alaska for many more years.

William F. Morse, Third Judicial District

STATEMENT:

I have had the privilege of serving as a superior court judge since 2002. I try to approach each case with the understanding that for the litigants it is perhaps the most important current event in their lives. I strive to understand each party's position and to fairly and neutrally apply the law to them. I think being a judge has been the most demanding, important, and fulfilling job I have ever had. I enjoy helping parties come to their own resolution of disputes, if possible. If they cannot, then I am willing to make the difficult decisions given to me. If retained I will continue to work hard to provide impartial justice to all who appear before me.

OTHER:

I grew up in the Boston area, and attended law school there. During the summer of 1993, I interned at the Alaska Office of Public Advocacy. After graduating, I returned to Alaska to be a law clerk. I then went to Kenai to be a public defender. Later, I returned to Anchorage to work for the Attorney General, doing consumer protection and child protection work. Subsequently, I worked at the Municipal Prosecutor's Office, as a trial supervisor of the domestic violence unit and trial attorneys and at various times, I served as Deputy Municipal Prosecutor.

STATEMENT:

I love Alaska and have made this special place my home. When I arrived in Alaska in 1994 as a young lawyer, I immediately became enamored with the friendliness, the spirit, and the wildness of Alaska.

For me, it was a daunting task to go to law school and then overcome the challenges of litigating. So, I recognize that coming to court is an uncomfortable experience for many individuals because I have personally experienced it. In the past 20 plus years, I have had the opportunity to have served as a law clerk, public defender, prosecutor, juror, and judge. These experiences have exposed me to the different aspects of the court system in Alaska, and I believe that the Alaska Court System strives to be fair to all people. As a judge in district court for the past seven years, I have seen that a lot of people appearing in my courtroom are dealing with significant struggles and conflicts. Every day, I strive to listen and respond to people, with dignity and respect, as they confront difficult situations. I feel fortunate to have served as a state court judge, thus far, and hope to continue to serve the public as a district court judge.

STATEMENT:

I have lived in Alaska since 1972. After attending college and law school, I returned to Alaska because of my strong desire to stay in Alaska and serve the community where I was raised. As an Assistant District Attorney and Assistant Attorney General in Anchorage, Barrow, Fairbanks, and Palmer, I became familiar with the issues that face all Alaskans when they become involved with our justice system. This experience has enabled me to deal efficiently and fairly with the high volume of cases in the Anchorage district court. In criminal cases, I strive to make sentencing decisions that meet both the needs of the community and the victim, as well as addressing a defendant's rehabilitation. In civil cases, I listen carefully to the parties and take the time to reach decisions that are well reasoned and just.

Within the court system itself, I continue to work collaboratively with other judges to make hearings more efficient for the public. I also work with other judges and attorneys to improve our jury instructions in criminal cases so that they are current and more understandable.

I am committed to treating everyone who becomes involved in our justice system fairly and with respect. I greatly enjoy both serving and being a member of this community.

STATEMENT:

Serving in the Palmer District Court is very satisfying. This is the "ounce of prevention" court where we deal with the majority of the courts' cases and a full 80% of the criminal cases. We see the widest variety of human misfortune. In each case, I look for a "silver lining" or the opportunity for the person to get the knowledge, skills and tools that can help them to avoid coming back to court until, perhaps, to serve as a juror on someone else's case.

I believe that respect, patience, and understanding go a long way toward helping people who have been brought to court to find their way to a better future. If they can do that, they help not only themselves but also the community and the families, victims and others involved in the unfortunate events leading to the court case.

As a lifelong Alaska, it has been an honor for me to serve the Valley as a judge for 15 years, handling well over 60,000 cases. I love my job, and try to treat each person who appears before me fairly and with respect. One of the high points of my judicial service has been helping start Palmer's mental health court. I truly believe this therapeutic court has helped many people turn their lives around. I care deeply about providing justice to all the people that come before me and it is an honor to serve the people as a judge in Palmer.

OTHER:
After graduating from law school, I worked for a small general practice law firm in Cherry Creek, Colorado. I became interested in spending more time in a courtroom which led to my work as a district attorney and judge. My husband Glenn and I married in 1988. In 1990 we were able to move to Alaska, a dream we shared. Glenn has worked for many years on an offshore oil platform in Cook Inlet.

STATEMENT:
It has been an honor to serve the people of the State of Alaska in both my previous positions with District Attorney's Offices and in my current position as a District Court Judge. I always strive to treat everyone with fairness and respect. I try to make certain that the many self-represented litigants who appear in court understand what is happening and the options that are available. Jurors are essential to the functioning of the court system and I try to make the many citizens who report for jury service aware of the importance of their role and to respect their time as much as possible. Before making any decision, I work hard to become aware of and to carefully and impartially evaluate both the facts and the law.

Serving as the only District Court Judge in Kenai has been both challenging and rewarding. If retained, I will continue to do the best job that I can to serve the citizens of the State of Alaska and the Kenai Peninsula.

STATEMENT:

It has been a privilege for me to serve as a District Court Judge. I am grateful for the positive recommendation of the Alaska Judicial Council.

I am honored to be a member of what I believe to be among the finest judicial systems in the country. I work hard to provide a forum that is fair to all parties and to treat all who appear before me with courtesy and respect. I try to consider each case in a careful, impartial and thoughtful manner and to render a judgment that is impartial and in accordance with the law.

I have welcomed opportunities to promote respect for democratic principles and our system of justice by speaking to groups such as youth court graduations and by participating in mock trial with school classes. The job of a judge requires constant study to remain current in the law and to learn new ways to improve the administration of justice. In addition to private study, I have pursued educational opportunities such as legal seminars to improve my performance as a judge.

I have always strived to conduct myself with integrity, humility and diligence. If retained I will continue to perform my duties to the best of my ability and endeavor to be worthy of the job entrusted to me.

RESOLUTION 18-001

ADOPTED BY THE STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE OF THE ALASKA REPUBLICAN PARTY

No Changes to the Traditional, Statutory and Current Formula for the Permanent Fund Dividend (PFD) Without a Vote of the People

Whereas, the Alaska Permanent Fund was created by a VOTE of the People,

Whereas, the principal of the Alaska Permanent Fund has been largely protected by a VOTE of the People through a Constitutional Amendment.

Whereas, when changes were considered to the use of the realized earnings and undistributed income account in 1998, the proposed change was submitted to an advisory VOTE of the people of Alaska,

Whereas, the people voted by an 83-17 percent margin to reject the proposed change to the traditional, statutory and current formula, and the government honored the will of the People expressed through the 1998 Advisory Vote,

Whereas, the principal of the Alaska Permanent Fund is by law derived from only one quarter of the owner's 12.5 percent royalty share due from mineral and oil and gas development on State land,

Whereas, the State already taxes the remainder of the owner's royalty share to use directly for government spending,

Whereas, over three decades ago a statutory formula was adopted to provide for Permanent Fund Dividends to the royalty owners (that is individual Alaskans) derived in perpetuity from the earnings of the principal of the Permanent Fund,

Whereas, this traditional, statutory and current formula provides for approximately half of the average realized earnings over time to be distributed as a dividend to the royalty owners (that is individual Alaskans),

Whereas, this traditional, statutory and current formula also provides for approximately half of the average realized earnings to be readily and freely available to the State for inflation-proofing the principal and for general government spending,

Whereas, for more than thirty years this traditional statutory formula was followed and respected by the State, that is until the State kept half the authorized PFD in 2016,

Whereas, in 2017 the State arbitrarily reduced the PFD authorized by the statute's traditional, statutory and current formula - without any VOTE by the People,

Whereas, in 2018 again the State arbitrarily reduced the PFD to a level that ignores the traditional, statutory and current formula for calculating Dividends,

Whereas, the State can eliminate all Dividends, or set Dividend amounts at will, or even spend every penny of Permanent Fund earnings, and

Whereas, the constitutionally protected principal of the Permanent Fund is guaranteed to generate earnings in perpetuity, and that those realized earnings will, also in perpetuity, be available for providing for the traditional Permanent Fund Dividends, and

Whereas, the State has adopted a change to the traditional, statutory and current formula without a VOTE of the People;

Therefore, Be It Resolved, that any change to the traditional, statutory and current law for calculating Permanent Fund Dividends shall, at a minimum, be subject to an advisory VOTE of the People.

A GLOBAL PERSPECTIVE

LETTER FROM THE CHAIR

APFC

ALASKA PERMANENT
FUND CORPORATION

The Alaska Permanent Fund (Fund) was created by the adoption of a Constitutional Amendment in a statewide election over 42 years ago. Under the stewardship of the Alaska Permanent Fund Corporation (APFC), the Fund has grown from the first deposit of $734,000 in royalties to a multi-billion dollar, globally recognized, leading sovereign wealth fund. The successes of the Fund and APFC are shared with all Alaskans - as they are founded in our Alaskan commitment to ensure that these financial assets are wisely invested and produce compelling long-term results for all generations.

APFC's team of experienced and knowledgeable professionals is unified in promoting and adhering to the principles of transparency, accountability, and best in class practices in the management of the Fund. Our results driven investment staff strives to out-perform select benchmarks on a daily basis, as they work to generate wealth and grow the value of the Fund. The active management of APFC's portfolio is based upon on the strategic directives developed by the Board of Trustees.

The Trustees serve as the Fund fiduciaries and ensure the assets are managed and invested in a manner consistent with legislative findings in AS 37.13.020:

- The Fund should provide a means of conserving a portion of the state's revenue from mineral resources to benefit all generations of Alaskans;
- The Fund's goal should be to maintain safety of principal while maximizing total return;

- The Fund should be used as a savings device managed to allow the maximum use of disposable income from the fund for purposes designated by law.

The acknowledgement of our achievement in converting a non-renewable natural resource into a renewable financial resource reaches well beyond the borders of our last frontier. APFC's investment model has been recognized globally for its ability to create and grow value on a sustainable basis for Alaska. Earlier this year, APFC welcomed the recognition as "Sovereign Wealth Fund of the Year" in Hedge Fund Investments by Institutional Investor and "Limited Partner of the Year - Americas" by Private Equity International.

In broadening our investment reach and building success globally, APFC routinely identifies and cultivates relationships with like-minded partners. Our relationships are based on cooperation, trust, and transparency. APFC's guiding principles and long-range investment vision for Alaska are underscored by our commitment to establishing enduring professional trust and confidence in our stewardship of the Fund. In our service to Alaska and our partners around the world, APFC is united by our shared values of Integrity, Stewardship, and Passion.

UNDERSTANDING THE FUND

Alaskans amended the Constitution in 1976 to establish the Alaska Permanent Fund, directing at least 25 percent of Alaska's non-renewable mineral royalties be deposited into the Fund and used only for income producing investments. Growth of the Fund is generated through deposits to the Principal and through returns on investments. In a state with primarily non-renewable resources, the Fund generates renewable revenue for current and future generations of Alaskans.

STRUCTURE OF THE FUND

The Fund is invested as one comprehensive strategy and divided into two parts: Principal (nonspendable) and Earnings Reserve Account - ERA (assigned). The Principal is constitutionally established and permanently protected. It can only be used for income-producing investments and grows through deposits of royalties, inflation proofing, and special appropriations. The ERA is a statutory account and holds the realized earnings generated by the Fund's investments. It can be appropriated by the Legislature for any state purpose.

APFC VISION STATEMENT

OUR VISION IS TO DELIVER SUSTAINED, COMPELLING INVESTMENT RETURNS AS THE UNITED STATES' LEADING SOVEREIGN ENDOWMENT MANAGER, BENEFITTING ALL CURRENT AND FUTURE GENERATIONS OF ALASKANS.
